Population Highlights ◆ Third Quarter 2010

As of October 1, 2010 the population of British Columbia reached 4,551,853. Over the last year, B.C.s population grew at a rate of over 1.5 percent, having the second highest growth among provinces, just marginally behind Manitoba (1.53%). The average growth across Canada was just under 1.2 percent.

Annual Growth: 2009 to 2010

Between Oct 1, 2009 and Oct 1, 2010, B.C.'s population increased by 67,450. This growth was fuelled by net international migration (+47,982), natural increase (+12,966) and net inter-provincial migration (+6,502.

Population October 1, 2010	4,551,853

Inter-provincial migration flows significantly favoured B.C. over the last year, with the net addition of 6,502 persons from other parts of Canada. Saskatchewan was the next largest beneficiary of internal migration (+3,242), while Ontario had the greatest net loss (-3,444).

B.C. accounted for 16.1 percent of the 279,311 immigrants that landed in Canada between 2009 and 2010, behind Ontario (42.4%) and Quebec (19.1%), and ahead of Alberta (11.4%). B.C. also attracted a significant share of non-permanent residents (NPRs) that come to Canada primarily to work and study. Over the last year B.C accounted for 35.5 percent of the 28,720 net increase in non-permanent residents in Canada. Cumulatively, it is estimated that, 22.6 percent of the 630,435 non-permanent residents in Canada are resident in B.C.; only Ontario (40.0%) has more resident NPRs.

Third Quarter, 2010

During the third quarter of 2010, B.C. gained 16,601 and lost 16,009 inter-provincial migrants, resulting in the third highest net inter-provincial migration gain (+592) after Alberta Ontario (+2,083), and Alberta (+1,155). B.C. received migrants from all regions in Canada during the third quarter. The largest numbers of in-migrants to the province arrived from Alberta (7,317) and Ontario (4,408). Natural increase (the excess of births over deaths) added 3,930 persons to the population.

Net international migration continued to be the main contributor to population growth, adding 16,371 persons to B.C.'s population. This includes a gain of 13,218 immigrants and 1,547 people who previously emigrated, but have returned to Canada, as well as a net 5,687 non-permanent residents. There were a total of 4,081 people who left B.C. for other countries.

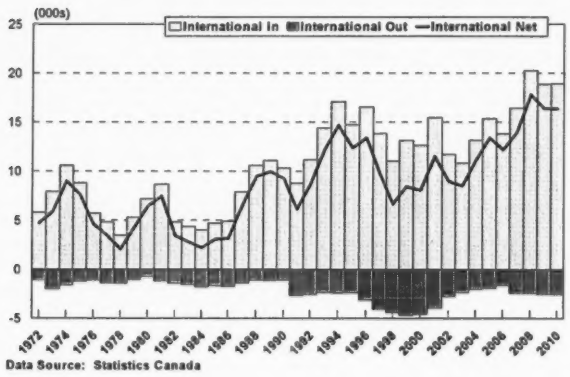
Statistics Canada recorded a total of 84,189 new landed immigrants in Canada during the third quarter of 2010, representing an increase of 11.7 percent compared to the third quarter of 2009. British Columbia continued to hold its position as one of the top three immigrant destinations in Canada.

Fig 2: International Migration 3rd Quarter 2010



In B.C., the number of arriving immigrants in the third quarter advanced 9.1 percent compared with the same period last year. In addition, B.C.'s share of total immigrant landings to Canada declined slightly: At 15.7 percent, B.C.'s share was just 0.4 percentage points lower than in the same period in 2009.

For six consecutive quarters, China has been the top source country of immigrants to B.C - in the third quarter, China accounted for 16.5 percent of the total. Immigrants from the Philippines accounted for 16.1 percent, while immigrants from India made up 14.2 percent.

Immigrants categorized in the Skilled Worker class accounted for the largest share of landings in B.C. during the third quarter of 2010, closely followed by the Family class. During the third quarter, 4,592 immigrants landed in the province as Skilled Work class immigrants. Compared with landings in the third quarter of 2009, the number of immigrants in the Skilled Worker class was significantly higher (+23.4%). However, B.C. received fewer Family class immigrants (-17.8%) compared to last year.
